Aztec Group sponsors the Alternative Credit Investor Conference 2026

We’re delighted to be sponsoring the inaugural Alternative Credit Investor Conference 2026.

Taking place on Tuesday 20 October at The Royal Horseguards Hotel in London, the conference brings together allocators, fund managers and service providers from across the alternative credit market for a day of panel discussions, expert insights and networking.

Sessions span a wide range of strategies and opportunities across private credit, from established lending models to fast-evolving areas including fund finance and credit secondaries. With operational resilience and innovation high on the agenda, sessions will also examine how AI is reshaping the industry and the opportunities and challenges it creates for managers.

Featuring senior voices from leading investment managers, institutional investors and advisers, the conference is designed to encourage practical discussion, strengthen relationships and create new connections. Dedicated COO/CFO and LP sessions will provide further opportunities for delegates to engage with the peers and specialists most relevant to them.

In addition to sponsoring the conference, Kevin Hogan, our Global Head of Private Credit, will be moderating a breakout session called, ‘The secondaries market: growth, GP-led deals and data transparency’. Kevin will be joined by Henri Lusa, Partner & Head of Credit Seconadies at CVC Secondary Partners, Alexandre Hökfelt, MD Direct Credit of Hamilton Lane and Malcolm Ferfuson, Partner at Molten Ventures.

The session will explore:

- What has driven the rapid growth of the secondaries market
- Whether GP-led transactions are set to outpace LP-led deals
- The operational and data transparency challenges facing the market

We’re also sponsoring an invitation only COO roundtable on ‘Steering through challenging market conditions’, which Andrew Tully, Head of Client Relationships for Private Credit, will be speaking on.

Find out more about the Alternative Credit Investor Conference 2026 at alternativecreditevents.com. If you’d like to attend, please reach out to us at events@aztecgroup.co.uk.

We look forward to connecting with clients, contacts and industry peers throughout the day.