

Aztec Group appoints new Head of Banking and Treasury

Paul Clohesy joins the Group in the newly appointed role of Head of Banking and Treasury, based in our Jersey office.

In his new role, Paul assumes responsibility for the Group's banking and treasury offering and will lead a team to transform our banking services, leveraging new technology to bring greater benefits to our clients. He will also develop our banking relationships across all jurisdictions as well as the policies, procedures and controls surrounding the Group's choice of banks.

Paul joins Aztec with significant experience within the financial services industry, and most recently held the position of Treasury Director at JTC. Prior to this, he was a Director in Investment and Treasury Services at Sanne for 12 years and was instrumental in the setup of Sanne's treasury function.

Aztec Group Managing Director, Geraldine O'Rourke, said: "Paul's appointment fills a key role for the Group; one that has been specifically created to transform our existing banking services and technology, ensuring we continue to deliver an outstanding client experience. His vast experience in this area and deep understanding of the complexities surrounding banking services make him uniquely qualified for this role, so it's great to have him on board. Welcome Paul!"

Paul said: "By continuing to develop Aztec's existing banking and treasury platforms, we will look to ensure that the Group remains at the forefront of innovation and best practice in the industry. Aztec is on an exciting journey and I'm pleased to join them at this pivotal moment."
