

Richard Phillips to moderate at the LPGP Private Debt Fundraising Europe Conference

Richard Phillips, Director in our Private Debt team, will moderate a panel session at the upcoming conference. The conference is being held virtually on Tuesday 1 December and will bring together LPs and GPs from the global private credit market to discuss the latest developments and market trends.

Kicking off at 10am GMT, the event, which we're also exhibiting at, will give investors an in-depth look at the most up to date issues and concerns for investment groups who currently invest in the asset class and those that are looking to learn more and navigate the many opportunities on offer.

Richard will moderate the session on 'GPs on the Future of Private Credit' and will be joined by Antonella Napolitano from Deerpath Capital Management, Ewan Macaulay of Metlife Investments, Sandro Näf of Capital Four Management and Ross Morrow from DunPort Capital Management.
