

Aztec Group appoints Dave Griffin as Group Head of Depositary Services

We're delighted to announce that the Aztec Group has appointed Dave Griffin as Group Head of Depositary Services.

In his new role, Dave will focus on growing and developing Aztec's Depositary Services business, using his expertise to help Aztec develop its client experience. Based in the UK, he will sit on the Aztec Group Executive Committee, with a Group-wide remit across all operational jurisdictions.

Dave started his career with PwC in their Government and Public Sector Assurance team. He took the opportunity to move to Aztec in 2013 and, together with his team, has grown our Depositary Services business into the substantial business it is today.

Commenting on his appointment, Dave said:

"I'm proud to lead Aztec's Depositary Services business. The demand for our effective, proportionate, and knowledgeable depositary services continues to grow. Done correctly, a depositary provides real value and insight to its clients and the industry."

Geraldine O'Rourke, Group Managing Director, added:

"Dave is an outstanding professional and he has been fundamental in building our Depositary Services business from its early days. Our clients are increasingly looking for multi-jurisdictional, multi-service solutions and Aztec, as a specialist provider of services to alternative investment fund managers, is uniquely placed to service their needs.

I'm delighted to be working with Dave and look forward to working with him, building out our Depositary Service offering."
