We're delighted to be sponsoring the LPGP CFO Private Equity and Private Credit Conference London 2025.

Taking place on Tuesday, 24 June at the Park Plaza Victoria in London, the conference brings together C-suite professionals and senior leaders from across private equity and private credit, in what will be the first time the event has featured both asset classes in the same day.

The conference will explore the key trends affecting the private funds industry today, examining back-office and daily operational processes including fund administration, valuations, audits, recruiting top talent and how to retain them, operational leverage and the role of technology in managing funds.

Featuring insights from over 70 industry-leading speakers and solution providers, the conference will explore cutting-edge developments and practical solutions to the key challenges faced by industry leaders and operational professionals.

In addition to sponsoring, our very own Andrew Tully, Director – Private Credit will be moderating a panel on 'Investor expectations: The evolving role of CFOs and COOs in fundraising' where he'll be joined by John Joseph of ACE & Company, Tom Wakeman of Soho Square Capital, Vinay Bantu of YMY Capital and Brett Mallen of Sail Investment.

The session will explore:

- How investor expectations are altering the fundraising landscape
- What topics have lost relevance with investors, and whether priorities will shift again
- How investors are becoming more data-driven in their approach to fund management
- How operations and finance teams are now more involved in client-facing activities earlier in the fundraising process

- What the fundraising outlook looks like for the remainder of the year and beyond

A number of Aztec representatives will be attending the conference. If you'd like to set up a meeting, please contact Ben.middleton@aztecgroup.co.uk
