Aztec Group strengthens Depositary Services team with senior hire

We’re delighted to welcome Lynsey Sutcliffe to our Depositary Services team in the UK.

Lynsey joins us with extensive experience in depositary services and a specialist focus on IFRS and US GAAP reporting. Prior to joining the Group, she gained significant experience in listed funds and regulatory reporting at EY in Bermuda, before joining FTSE 250-listed Serco Group Plc as a Business Unit Financial Controller.

In her new role, Lynsey will join our Depositary Services leadership team and will oversee a number of client relationship teams, assisting with the ongoing development of our depositary platform, advising on policies, procedures and system enhancements, and supporting the Group’s business development efforts.

Commenting on her appointment, Lynsey said:

“I’m delighted to be joining the Aztec Group and becoming part of a market-leading Depositary Services team. As the demand for depositary services has grown in recent years, the Group has stood out by applying its client-centric approach to the oversight of alternative investment fund operations. I’m looking forward to working closely with the team to further develop our service offering in this area.”

David Griffin, UK Head of Depositary Services at the Aztec Group, added:

“It’s with great pleasure that I welcome Lynsey to our Depositary Services leadership team. Following a strategic decision to grow our depositary team in the UK in line with client demand, Lynsey’s experience and specialist knowledge will be a valuable asset to the future development and growth of our service offering.”
