Aztec Group strengthens leadership across governance and client services

Aztec Group today announced several senior leadership appointments that further strengthen its governance, oversight and client service capabilities as the Group continues to grow across key private markets jurisdictions.

In Luxembourg, Eva Devine has been appointed Global Head of Fund Oversight and Governance Services, bringing together Aztec's AIFM, Depositary Services, Regulatory Control, Internal Controls and Static Data oversight functions. The move strengthens Aztec's governance capabilities, supporting consistent service delivery and robust regulatory oversight for clients as it continues to grow.

Paul Conroy will move into the newly created role of Head of European Sales after three years leading the development of Aztec's AIFM proposition from Luxembourg. Paul will focus on strengthening client relationships and supporting the Group's long-term strategic ambitions across European markets.

Martin O'Brien has been appointed Group Head of Depositary Services. Based in Ireland, he will be responsible for the strategic direction and continued development of Depositary Services across the Group, supporting consistent service delivery and continued growth across Aztec's jurisdictions.

Akbar Sheriff, Chief Client Success Officer and Chief Operating Officer at Aztec Group, said: "We are delighted that Eva, Martin and Paul will take on these new roles. They are highly respected leaders with deep knowledge of our business, our clients and the markets we serve.

"These appointments reflect both the strength of our leadership team and our commitment to developing talent from within the Group. By bringing closely connected capabilities together and investing in experienced leaders, we are strengthening consistency across our service offering and continuing to enhance the expertise that supports our clients' success."

Commenting on her appointment, Eva Devine said: "Private markets clients increasingly value service providers that can deliver expertise, oversight and governance in a consistent way across jurisdictions and service lines. Bringing these functions together creates an opportunity to further strengthen alignment and collaboration across our teams, while continuing to deliver the high standards of service our clients expect.

“I look forward to working with colleagues to build on the strong foundations already in place and continue supporting our clients’ evolving needs.”

The appointments follow a series of strategic leadership hires as Aztec continues to invest in leadership, expertise and operational excellence, including Benjamin Lucas as Chief Executive Officer, Melissa Ferraz as Chief Commercial Officer and Jason Adams as Chief Technology Officer.
