Aztec Group wins Private Equity Wire U.S. Award for Private Credit

Aztec Group, a premium global provider of private markets services, is proud to announce that it has been named Fund Administrator of the Year – Private Credit at the Private Equity Wire U.S. Awards 2025, held on November 6 at Convene in New York. This achievement reflects the strength of the Group's fast-growing U.S. Private Credit offering and commitment to delivering innovative, scalable, and technology-enabled solutions combined with its renowned client service.

The award recognises Aztec's differentiated approach to private credit fund administration, combining deep subject-matter expertise with innovative technology, integrated data capabilities, and a white-glove client service ethos. Over the past year, Aztec has continued to invest significantly in the evolution of its Private Credit services, supporting clients with a cross-border service model and real-time data to help them operate faster, more accurately, and with greater insight.

Key milestones of the past 12 months include:

- 25% growth in Private Credit AUA
- Expansion of our specialist Private Credit team
- Six new client wins in the U.S. and Europe
- Deployment of an integrated loan and GL accounting system

Todd Werner, U.S. Head of Private Credit at Aztec Group, said: "Winning this award is an exciting milestone for our U.S. Private Credit business and a testament to the incredible work of our team. We've spent the past year sharpening our product, enhancing our technology, and strengthening our expertise to meet the demands of a rapidly evolving asset class. I'm immensely proud of the team's dedication to client service, innovation, and operational excellence – and we're just getting started."

To continue building its U.S. platform, Aztec has made strategic leadership appointments to develop its Private Credit service model further, drive operational efficiency, and ensure continued delivery of exceptional service as client needs scale.

Kevin Hogan, Group Head of Private Credit at Aztec, added: “This recognition highlights how our enhanced Private Credit capabilities and talented people are resonating with clients across the U.S. market. Private Credit continues to expand globally, and Aztec is uniquely positioned to support managers with a service model that blends local market knowledge and a relentless focus on client experience. I want to thank our clients for their trust and Todd and his team for their commitment to excellence.”

The Private Equity Wire U.S. Awards celebrate the firms and service providers driving innovation, growth, and impact across the private markets ecosystem. Winners were determined through a rigorous process that included data analysis, editorial review, industry input, and a public vote.

Aztec remains committed to continuing its investment in its Private Credit product, technology, and people by bringing specialist expertise, seamless cross-border delivery, and exceptional client service to a growing roster of private credit managers across the U.S. and Europe.
