

Latest trends and insights in UK private equity fundraising

We've partnered with leading European private equity specialists, Unquote, to bring you the latest fundraising insights, trends and figures in the UK private equity market.

Now in its third year, the report provides an overview of the market, detailed fund statistics, and in-depth analysis of developments, concerns and expectations.

The report also features an article from our Head of Private Equity - UK, Jim Whittingham, who discusses the benefits of outsourced administration for fund managers. Jim particularly highlights the security and expertise that an administration partner can provide to first-time funds, guiding managers through launch and building a fruitful long-term relationship.

Commenting on our partnership with Unquote, Jim said:

"The report offers thought-provoking insights into the current and future state of the UK private equity market, and detailed analysis of funds, strategies and investors. We're delighted to continue our support for an initiative that provides much value to GPs and advisors across this space."
