

We're proudly sponsoring the ALFI US Roadshow 2023

The ALFI US Roadshow takes place across New York and Boston between May, 24 - 25 - an event we are proud to be sponsoring.

With growing excitement within the US fund market, this year's roadshow provides industry leaders the opportunity to uncover and explore how to leverage the gap between the EU and US markets.

The annual ALFI visit to the US is filled by excellent networking potential in Boston and New York. Whilst the ties between Luxembourg and the US are increasingly growing, the roadshow provides attendees the opportunity to learn from Luxembourg and North American investment fund professionals as they exchange views of the latest market developments based on their experiences.

Ore Adegbotolu, Head of US Markets, will be speaking on Regulatory Updates in Boston on May 25, where he'll be joined by moderator Maren Stadler-Tjan, Partner at Clifford Chance and Nadia Bonnet, Senior Luxembourg Counsel at Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP. This session will uncover how asset managers are facing up to regulatory change that's transforming the industry towards a more sustainable, transparent and stable market. Investment opportunities that have historically been 'private' are now beginning to open towards a broader range of investors. As the second largest fund centre worldwide, Luxembourg strives to positively contribute to the current developments for the benefit of asset managers, investors and investees alike. This panel will discuss the most relevant market developments, comprising AIFMD II, fundraising perspectives, cross-border distribution as well as ESG impacts.
