

We've appointed a new Head of Depository Services in Luxembourg

With over 18 years' experience in fund services and a specialist focus on alternative investments, Eva's career has spanned Ireland and Luxembourg. Prior to joining the Group, she led the Luxembourg-based Depository Services teams at a large fund administrator and a leading global bank.

In her role, Eva will join our Depository Services leadership team and will oversee depository operations, client relationship management, controls, processes and reporting procedures for clients serviced from our Luxembourg office.

Commenting on her appointment, Eva said:

"I'm delighted to be joining the Aztec Group and becoming part of a leading Depository Services team. The Group has established itself as a key player in the European market, providing award-winning services to an impressive list of alternative investment clients. I'm looking forward to further growing the depository business with the team in Luxembourg and contributing to the wider development of our client offering across the Group."

Geraldine O'Rourke, Group Head of Corporate and Depository Services at the Aztec Group, added:

"We're very excited to be welcoming Eva to head up our Depository team in Luxembourg. She has extensive experience in the alternative investments industry and is well respected by her clients and peers. Her appointment will support the delivery of our strategy focussed on excellent client service and help us reinforce our status as a leading depository provider in Europe."
